

Around the World With Google Earth

Clue #5:

If you ask your dad how to get there he might tell you "practice, practice, practice." But if you don't want to practice you could just buy a ticket to see a great symphony. Don't have enough money for a ticket? You could steal one...After all, a steel empire built this hall.

Task:

Once you're confident of the location of the fifth stop on our tour of the world, put a marker on it in your Google Earth project.

Do you know a funny (school-appropriate) joke? If so, tell it on camera and add the video to the marker in your project. Would you rather sing or hum a song? Do that in place of telling a joke.
